YES, IT WORKS!

The plan was to sign up to Udate to research this feature. I was only trying to do my job properly. I was going to chat online, see who was out there,
5 and maybe in time meet up with some of them.

David3108 took a different approach. He meticulously went through the details of hundreds of girls,
10 narrowed them down to a short list of three, and wrote to them. They wrote back. Apparently, I was the one who didn't sound crazy. I thought he seemed nice but boring.
15 They do say it is the quiet ones you have to watch. After meeting in person, it took six days for us to get serious, 26 days for him to propose, 0.6 seconds for me to say yes. I was 20 engaged and still had a month left on my membership.

The hardest part was telling the other nice men I met online that I couldn't see them. "So, this thing 25 actually works?" said one, kindly. Yes it does, and the passing weeks have only confirmed that we have made the right decision. The plan went wrong, in the right way. JM
